1. Winning words: Statement of purpose workshop Dec. 6

Applying for graduate school or going for a top scholarship like a Foreign Language and Area Studies fellowship? Learn to put a compelling statement of purpose together from CSEAS Director and Assistant Director Eric Jones and Jui-Ching Wang at 3 p.m. Dec. 6 in the conference room next door to CSEAS at the Center for Latino and Latin American Studies. This one-hour workshop will give you the tools to put together a winning package. For details, contact Wang at jcwang@niu.edu.

2. Notes from all over: From Phnom Penh to Nashville NEW

Two familiar faces appear on the American University of Phnom Penh's latest marketing brochure: CSEAS associate Kheang Un (Political Science) and AAUP graduate and now NIU graduate student Limeng Ong. . . . The Southeast Asia Collection has acquired the streaming rights for one year for the 2017 film Sittwe; Youth Dialogue on the Buddhist/Muslim Conflict, a documentary about youth in the conflict-torn Rakhine

State in Myanmar. . . . Calling for submissions for a memorial project in honor of the life and work of late University of Wisconsin-Madison Thai language teacher, Ajarn Kannikar Elbow. Find more information here. . . .History doctoral student JoAnn LoSavio reviews Growing Up Female in Multi-Ethnic Malaysia by Cynthia Joseph (Routledge, 2014) in the November issue of Intersections: Gender & Sexuality in Asia and the Pacific. . . . Former FLAS fellow Michael Grzybowski (MS geology, 2017), now a geologist with the Antea Group Nederland in Cherry Hill, NJ, presented "Improving Groundwater Management in Myanmar through Capacity Building" Dec. 4 at the National Groundwater Association Summit in Nashville, TN. Grzybowski won the conference's award for best student presentation for his research, which he conducted with CSEAS associate Melissa Lenczewski (Geology), Yee Yee Oo, physics professor at Mandalay University, and Luis Marin, a senior researcher at Instituto de Geofisica in Mexico. The project was to develop a hydrogeological model and deliver it through open-source platforms to aid Myanmar scientists working on groundwater management. Lenczewski and Grzybowski traveled to Myanmar in 2016 to conduct a two-week workshop on using open-source platforms. The workshop was funded by a grant from the groundwater association's Developing Nations Fund.

3. New Boren award targets Bahasa

The Institute of Higher Education (IIE) is introducing a new fully funded David L. Boren language-study scholarship aimed specifically at increasing the number of Indonesian-speakers in the U.S. The Indonesian Flagship Language Initiative program begins with an eight-week Indonesian language program at the University of Wisconsin-Madison's Southeast Asian Studies Summer Institute, followed by a fall program in Indonesia at the State University of Malang administered by the American Councils for International Education. Both undergraduates and graduate students are encouraged to apply (Feb. 8 deadline for undergrads, Jan. 30 deadline for graduate students).

4. Two FLAS opportunities, two deadlines, one application

Whether you're applying for a summer 2018 or an academic-year 2018–19 FLAS fellowship, or both, you can apply for a Foreign Language and Area Studies (FLAS) fellowship with one application. The application and all information on both summer and academic-year FLAS awards are posted online. Summer FLAS applications are due Jan. 1; the deadline for the academic-year FLAS is Feb. 1. The U.S. Department of Education's Title VI

What's it like to be a FLAS fellow? See "Students Parlay Southeast Asian Studies into Scholarships, Travel, Leg Up in Job Market," in the NIU Newsroom

Program of Foreign Language and Area Studies

Fellowships funds FLAS fellowships. Summer FLAS fellowships provide for the summer study of Southeast Asian languages at any U.S. Department of Education-approved educational institution, especially those in Southeast Asia, but also including the Southeast Asian Studies Summer Institute at the University of Wisconsin-Madison. Questions? Contact Assistant CSEAS Director Jui-Ching Wang at jcwang@niu.edu.

5. Applications for 2018–19 graduate Neher Fellowship open

U.S. and international graduate students are invited to apply for the Center's 2018–19 Clark and Arlene Neher Graduate Fellowship for the Study of Southeast Asia. The fellowship includes a tuition waiver and a $4,000 annual stipend. To apply, students should be at an advanced stage in their program, either master's or doctoral degree, and planning field or archival research in SEA studies. Applicants must also be in good standing with NIU and demonstrate a commitment to career involving SEA Studies. Apply online by Feb. 1; for details, see CSEAS website.

6. Study abroad to Indonesia in summer 2018

Faculty associate Kikue Hamayotsu (Political Science) is leading a summer study abroad program in Yogyakarta, Central Java, June 24–July 7. The program, Democracy and Cultural Diversity in Indonesia, will focus on Indonesian politics, religious and ethnic diversity and conflict in a rapidly changing Southeast Asian society. Yogyakarta is a vibrant hub of culture, arts, education and industry where students can observe how Indonesia's diversity informs its social, political and economic development. Participants will live at Gadjadara University, which is co-sponsoring the program, and participate in daily activities and field trips to heritage sites, monuments and museums. Updated cost and program information are pending. For details, contact Hamayotsu at khamayotsu@niu.edu. For more details on studying abroad, see the Study Abroad website.

7. Music of Southeast Asia class added to spring course offerings

A new class, MUHL 431/531, Music of Southeast Asia, is being introduced for spring, taught by instructor and NIU alumnus Chamni Sripraram of the Thai Cultural and Fine Arts Institute of Chicago. For details about the class, contact Assistant CSEAS Director Jui-Ching Wang at jcwang@niu.edu.

All five SEA language and literature classes continue: Burmese, Indonesian, Khmer, Tagalog and Thai. The Center's undergraduate class, SEAS 225, Southeast Asia: Crossroads of the World (instructor of record Jui-Ching Wang), is offered from 12:30 to 1:45 p.m. Tuesdays and Thursdays in DuSable 148.

Other spring courses include:

- ANTH 328 Anthropology of Religion (Andrea Molnar)
- ANTH 790A Seminar in Anthropology (Andrea Molnar). Combined class with ANTH 328
- FLST 382 Censorship and Literature: State and Society in Authoritarian Countries (Tharaphi Than)
- FLST 582, Special Topics in Literature: Life in the Rice Paddies (Kanjana Thepboriruk). Thai language proficiency required.
- HIST 470/570 America and Asia (Staff)
- POLS 376: Political Violence (Kikue Hamayotsu)
- POLS 664, Politics of Identity: Ethnicity, Religion and Conflict (Kikue Hamayotsu).
- MUSE 370/670, Gamelan I (Ngurah Kertayuda).

All courses may be applied toward SEA Studies minors/contract majors or graduate certificates. See full schedule on CSEAS website.

8. Burnish your resumé with Southeast Asian Studies

Add a Southeast Asian Studies minor to a bachelor's degree or a graduate certificate to an advanced degree and pull your resumé to the top of the pile. Visit the CSEAS website or stop by CSEAS at 520 College View Court. Undergraduates should contact adviser Maria Nihei at mhancock3@niu.edu; graduate students should contact Assistant Director Jui-Ching Wang at jcwang@niu.edu.

9. Call for papers: Spring 2018 Southeast Asia Student Conference

The Southeast Asia Club invites papers for its 2018 Southeast Asia Student Conference, which is set for Saturday, April 7, in Campus Life 100. Papers may be submitted on any topic pertaining to Southeast Asia; Deadline to submit abstracts: Friday, Feb. 2. Final papers are due Friday, March 2.

Email inquiries or abstracts to niuseaclub@gmail.com (please put student conference in the subject). Best paper awards will be given for undergraduate and graduate papers. James Hoesterey, Emory University cultural anthropologist, will be the keynote speaker, co-sponsored by the Graduate Colloquium. Hoesterey, who received his PhD from the University of Wisconsin-Madison, is the author of Rebranding Islam: Piety, Prosperity, and a Self-Help Guru (Stanford University Press, 2015).
